

To the Postal Regulatory Commission

RECEIVED

My husband and I heard you were considering changes to the Post Office Provider and we wanted you to consider our input and concerns. We live in a rural area of Northern California that is serviced by the Clio Post office, with a one person, post office staff. Closing our Post office would make it more difficult for us as we age. My husband is 81 and I am 79 and soon may need to have our prescriptions delivered by mail. One of our prescriptions need refrigeration so delays in delivery would make it unusable, Currently, we drive 28 miles one way to get our medical prescriptions.

We feel the Post Office should work for the people, not make it harder to get mail delivered on time. We do not mind paying a little more for first class mail, but expect it to be delivered in a timely manner.

In looking at the proposed new recommendations by the current head of the Post Office, we feel that the people who are being served will suffer. We should be making the Postal Service more efficient not slower. We believe many of the new recommendations take the service in the wrong direction.

Thank you for your attention
